Foreword

MOUNTAINEER SPIRIT — INTANGIBLE,
YET SO REAL TO ALL LOYAL WEST
VIRGINIANS, HAS BEEN THE ONE IDEAL
WHICH WE HAVE STRIVED TO POR-
TRAY IN THIS, THE MONTICOLA '29.
MAY YOU, FELLOW MOUNTAINEER, HOLD THIS VOLUME SACRED TO THE MEMORY OF OUR ALMA MATER—WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY.

Business Manager

Dedication

TO
HON. E. G. SMITH

Honorable Edward Grandison Smith

Judge E. G. Smith

Judge Smith is a native of West Virginia and of old Harrison County stock—a true mountaineer. Today, he is recognized as one of the ablest members of the Clarksburg Bar, who, for over thirty years has devoted himself exclusively to the practice of law at Clarksburg and furthering the interests of his Alma Mater, West Virginia University.

Judge Smith was born on Horse Run, Harrison County, April 8, 1868. He was reared on his father's farm and attended the public schools of West Milford. In later years he came to West Virginia University and received his LL.B. degree in 1889 and in 1892, he received the same degree from Washington and Lee University, which institution he represented in the Southern Intercollegiate Contest in Oratory in 1892 at Vanderbilt University, winning the medal. He was admitted to the bar in 1892 and entered into practice at Clarksburg.

During his many years of practice, he has won several high honors at the bar, taking part in some of the most important cases of litigation coming before the Harrison County bar. His offices, located at Clarksburg are among the best equipped in the country for law, work that has taken years to complete.

In 1912, Judge Smith was put forward as his party's choice for the office of judge of the Supreme Court of Appeals, hereby, starting his honorable and famed term of public life. There is no alumnus of our University who has more reverence and devotion for this institution than Judge Smith. He is a man of vision in the interests of our University, this being shown by his election to presidency of the West Virginia University Alumni Association for three consecutive years and, upon the creation of the Board of Governors in 1927, Judge Smith was elected president by its members. To meet him, is to meet a true Mountaineer, the kind that has made our University a great educational institution for the sons of West Virginia.

DR. FRANK BUTLER TROTTER

Born Feb. 27, 1863 in Washington County, Ohio. He received his A.B. degree from Roanoke College in 1890, with the highest grade in his class, and received his A.M. degree in 1895. He later went to Harvard Graduate School for two years. He was a teacher in the public schools for four years; private schools for two years. He went to West Virginia Wesleyan as a professor of Latin and Modern Languages until 1907, and became a professor of Latin at West Virginia University the same year. He was Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences until 1911, when he became Acting President of the University until 1914 and then elected as President, serving in this capacity until 1928. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, and the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

DR. TURNER

Dr. John Roscoe Turner was born at Matville, W. Va., Feb. 13, 1882; thus, we can term him a real Mountaineer. He received his education at West Virginia Conference Seminary, Ohio Northern University and Princeton University, and holds the following degrees: B.S., M.S., and Ph.D. His teaching career began in a small school in Louisiana; from there he went to Willie Hassell College in Oklahoma. After serving as Principal in a Kentucky Seminary he became an instructor at Cornell University. In 1920 Dr. Turner accepted a position as head of the Economics Department at Washington Square College, N. Y. and later became Dean of the same college. He is a noted economist, having served as Chairman of the Advisory Board of the U. S. Tariff Commission. He is also noted as being the author of "Ricardian Rent in Economics" and "Introduction to Economics."

This year Dr. Turner has been elected to and accepted the position as President of West Virginia University and assumes office July 1.

Freshman Class History

On September nineteenth, nineteen hundred and twenty-seven, the freshmen, seven hundred strong, first appeared upon the campus. For the University we were just so much grist for the mill; for the upperclassmen, forgetful of their own turbulent University birth, we were so many persons to be neglected or admired; for the fraternities we were a certain number of targets for paddles.

Holt Woodell, President of the student body, addressed us at our first gathering and extended his best and most sincere wishes to us, the new students, and expressed the hope that each one of us would meet with success in the environment of the University life. We were appealed to as individuals, to work together in a common cause, for a common end, in making West Virginia a bigger and better University. We were instructed to jump to the fore, put our shoulders together and push onward for the greater honor and glory of the University.

There was a cordiality of welcome evidenced by practically the entire student body and we realized that the opening of the school year meant a revival of the true Mountaineer spirit. After struggling through the bewildering maze of registration, the burden of first assignments, the strange environment, and the dubious aspects of a new existence, the Freshmen Class was formally organized on October 5th, and officers were chosen to lead the plebes.

Paul Vannoy, Morgantown, was elected as Freshman Cheerleader at the thuse held previous to the West Virginia-Carnegie Tech game. In the annual push-ball contest between the Freshmen and Sophomores, the plebes were awarded a decisive victory by the Fi Baters who sponsored the engagement.

Our athletic teams have been unusually successful and with the influx of members of this year's Little Mountaineers into the varsity camp next September, competition of high calibre for the various berths is assured. Scholastically, we have made great strides. George L. Johnson distinguished himself by leading the Honor Roll, not only of the Freshmen Class but of the whole University for the first semester of the current year with an average of 96.18, carrying 16 semester hours of work.

Virginia Stannard and Katherine Hinkle brought recognition to the class by winning first and seventh awards respectively in the national contest sponsored by the 4 H Clubs of America.

All in all we have passed through a chaotic year. Many eventful and strange things have occurred to brand it as an outstanding one in which we have played but a small part. Our year has been comparatively free from pugilistic encounters with upperclassmen, although the vigilance committee, that august body of enforcement, has at intervals, shown several in our midst, the value of restrictions and the rules that have been placed upon us. Their methods of enforcement which have resulted in a few shaven pates, an occasional sign on the back, and a bit of midnight chastisement, have had a wonderful psychological effect upon the entire class.

It is with sincere humility that we realize our inferiority to the classes which have gone ahead and we regard them with the highest respect. Yet we believe that we possess the power of great accomplishment and achievement and our aim is toward this end.

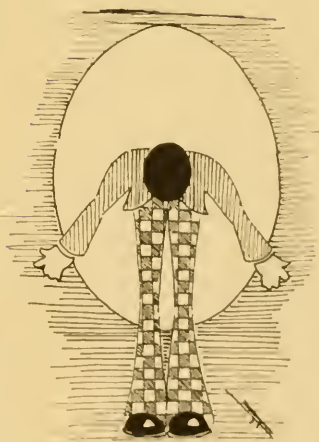

With determination, keenness of purpose, and hopeful anticipation, we look forward to our Sophomore year in West Virginia University.

MARTHA MOORE,

Historian.

Reviving an old custom, the Monticola '29 held an election by popular vote for the Senior who has done the most for West Virginia University, styling him the Mountaineer.

SERGEANT W. H. RUSSELL

Sergeant Russell, known by all the students on the campus, will bring his long career to a close on May 25, 1928. There has been no personage connected with the military department who has been so popular with the students as "Sergeant."

Sergeant Russell was born Nov. 26, 1882 at Batavia, N. J. On the 27th of December, 1901, he enlisted in the army, serving in the Philippine Insurrection and several years in the states. He was commissioned a First Lt. on Sept. 22, 1917 and served in the World War, following his commission. He was later detailed to the War Prison Barracks at Fort McPherson where he served for several years. On Oct. 30, 1919, he was discharged from service with a commission and later came to West Virginia University in 1923.

On May 30 of this year, Sergeant Russell will have served thirty years in the service and will retire on pension. The students wish to take this opportunity to bid him a sad farewell and years of success.

"Mountaineer Week"

Repeating "Mountaineer Week", an innovation of last year, nine representative students of the University traveled to 76 of the smaller high schools, normal schools and colleges situated throughout the State. The tour was conducted for the threefold purpose of creating a beneficial spirit within the State; acquainting their audiences with the State University; and to speak generally on higher education. With relation to the University, the "U" ambassadors explained the three phases of student life: the scholastic, the social, and the extra-curricular.

Because the State University bears the same relation to State high schools as the high school bears to the municipal grade schools and because there are hundreds of seniors in high schools wanting to know more about college as Commencement time drew near, "Mountaineer Week" was set aside for the enhancement of the leaders of tomorrow.

The affair was sponsored by F. Roy Yoke, alumni secretary, George W. Jackson, captain of the "good will speakers", the student council, and by the University Authorities. The latter two bodies shared the expenses of the program. "Mountaineer Week" is the most successful medium ever attempted by the University to pave the transition from high school to college and in upbuilding a pride in the state, many believe.

Instead of following last year's custom of apportioning three teams of three men each to visit the schools, the representatives went singly and in this way were able to visit more schools less expensively, and more efficaciously. Because last year's tour encompassed only the larger high schools, the brunt of the speaking was done in the smaller high schools this year. Liberal co-operation on the part of the principals of the institutions greatly assisted in the movement. Special assemblies were called in the majority of cases and following these conferences were held with a number of the graduating seniors.

The period was distinctively not intended as an agency to urge students to attend the University nor was it utilized as a boost for the University. It was simply an attempt to describe the center of the State's educational system to those high school students who some day expect to matriculate at a college or University. A multiplicity of favorable comments and appreciatory letters have followed in the wake of the tour, according to Mr. Roy Yoke. The results of the two tours strongly indicate that "Mountaineer Week" will be made a regular annual event.

The men chosen represented every phase of college activity including: three athletes, two former presidents of the Interfraternity council, the president of the Student Body, an editorial writer for the Law Quarterly, a prominent club man and the president of the General Engineering Society.

Society

FIRST UNIVERSITY DANCE—October 29, 1927

The social season was opened by the first University Dance given in the Armory. The decorations were suggestive of the Hallowe'en spirit and the newly organized orchestra under the direction of Reese Henry made their debut. The dance was informal and was well attended.

MILITARY BALL—January 30, 1928

The apex of the social calendar was attained in the revival of the long-established Military Ball. Plans executed under the chairmanship of Carl P. Flanagan caused this ball to be the most successful given by the Military department in many years.

Out of a long list of popular orchestras, Ross Gorman and His Victor Recording Orchestra was selected. The most elaborate decorations of the year made an effective background for the dancers.

MOUNTAINEER FORMAL—February 24, 1928

To boost Mountaineer Week a formal dance was this year added to the social calendar. A typical Mountaineer adorned the cover of the program and the music was furnished by Reese Henry.

TORCH AND SERPENT—December 16, 1927

The flaming "torch" became too realistic when the decorations went up in smoke and the serpent came to life in the form of the fire hose. The fire from the photographers camera in a second had the entire ceiling of the Armory ablaze. For once the firemen were welcome visitors. After a short time the danger was past and every one had a good time in spite of the dampened atmosphere.

PRESS CLUB FORMAL—December 10, 1927

A color scheme of black and white featured in the programs of the third annual Press Club Formal which was given in the Armory. Reese Henry played the program of dances.

FIRST PAN-HELLENIC DANCE—November 11, 1927

To open the fraternity social season the first Pan-Hellenic proved a marked success. Whitey Kaufman and His Victor Recording Orchestra were featured.

FIRST CADET HOP—November 19, 1927

Formal pledging ceremonies of the Seaboard and Blade were conducted during the intermission of the Cadet Hop. The dance was attended by a record crowd.

CO-ED PROM—December 2, 1927

Aimless wandering on the part of the male element of the campus indicated the occasion of the annual Co-ed Prom. Al Maybey's orchestra played the program of dances. An unusual number of feminine-looking men attended.

PI BETA FORMAL—DECEMBER 3, 1927

Appropriate decorations formed the setting for the Pi Phi's fall party which was given in the chapter house. Music was furnished by Reese Henry's orchestra.

MIAMI TRIAD—December 9, 1927

The three fraternities forming the Miami Triad, Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Chi and Phi Delta Theta, were joint hosts at a formal dance in the Armory. The outstanding feature was continued dancing, the orchestras conducted by Al Mabey and Reese Henry playing alternately.

PHI KAPPA PSI FORMAL—December 9, 1927

The chapter house was decorated in the fraternity colors for the semester party at which Hawkins' colored orchestra of Union-town supplied the music. A buffet supper was served during the intermission.

CHI OMEGA FORMAL—January 6, 1928

The annual fall formal was held in the Armory with Reese Henry's orchestra playing the program. The decoration were in the sorority colors and leather cigarette cases were presented to the young men.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA FORMAL—January 7, 1927

Preceded by a buffet dinner at the house, the semester party was given in the Ortolan. Eddie Barrett's orchestra from Fairmont furnished the music.

ALPHA DELTA PI FORMAL—January 7, 1928

The ballroom of the Hotel Morgan was the scene of the winter party at which Reese Henry supplied the program of dances.

WOMAN'S FORMALS—January 6, 1928 and March 16, 1928

Woman's Hall, The Annex and Boughner House combined to give their semester formals at the Hotel Morgan. Al Mabey played for the first and Reese Henry the second dance.

TORCH AND SERPENT DANCE

PHI MU—December 3, 1927

The semester formal was held at the chapter house with Reese Henry playing the program. Decorations were in the fraternity colors and luncheon was served during the intermission.

PHI KAPPA SIGMA—December 10, 1927

Laurel and evergreen formed the background for the winter formal which was given at the house with the Old Gold and Blue orchestra furnishing the music for the dancing.

MONTICOLA

KAPPA SIGMA—January 13, 1928

A five course dinner at the Hotel Morgan preceded the formal dance held in the ballroom. Eddie Barrett's orchestra supplied the music. The slogan "Although it was Friday the 13th, the Kappa Sigs had some party" adorned the program.

SECOND PAN-HELLENIC—February 10, 1928

Comic Valentines beneath the illuminated letters of each fraternity added an effective note to the decorations. A new orchestra, Ross Smith's, was well received.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON—February 17, 1928

The Armory was decorated in the fraternity colors for the semester formal with Reese Henry playing the program.

ENGINEERS' BALL—February 25, 1928

Under the auspices of the General Engineering society the annual informal dance proved its usual success. The music was furnished by a local orchestra.

THIRD PAN-HELLENIC—March 9, 1928

Featured by the exceptional ability of Joe Nesbit's orchestra of Sumbury, Pa., the dance was acclaimed one of the best of the season.

WOMAN'S PAN-HELLENIC—March 17, 1928

Appropriate St. Patrick's Day decorations formed the background for the annual formal given by the sororities in the Armory. Reese Henry played the program of dances.

SECOND CADET HOP—March 24, 1928

The first informal Cadet Hop of the year was featured by novel programs and music by Reese Henry's orchestra.

DELTA TAU DELTA FORMAL

HILL FRATERNITIES PARTIES—March 30, 31, 1928

The week-end of March 30 was set aside by Phi Sigma Kappa, Kappa Alpha, Delta Tau Delta and Pi Kappa Alpha for a varied plan of entertainment. Friday evening the P K A's, and K A's were hosts at a formal in the Armory. Each fraternity served a buffet supper before the dance at their houses. Saturday afternoon the lower floor of the University Theater was reserved for the play "Outward Bound." That evening the Delts and Phi Sigs were hosts to a "Hard Times" party in the Armory. Lack of decorations, refreshments, program and costumes were in keeping with the spirit of the occasion. Joe Mallory's orchestra played for both dances.

THETA CHI—March 30, 1928

The spring formal was in the form of a dinner dance given at the Hotel Morgan. Hawkins Peerless Serenaders of Uniontown furnished the music. Attractive programs bearing the seal were presented.

SIGMA NU—March 31, 1928

The drawing of varied and elaborate favors by the guests was the climax of the dinner dance held at the Hotel Morgan. The program was played by Hawkins Peerless Serenaders.

SENIOR DANCE—April 13, 1928

Characterized by the dignity and befitting such an august assembly, the dance given by the graduating class was pronounced by all to be an unusual success. The orchestra which was scheduled failed to appear but exceptional music was given by a local orchestra.

JUNIOR PROM—April 20, 1928

Excelling in elaborate decorations, programs and music the Junior Prom given in honor of the departing Seniors was easily the outstanding social function of the spring season. A superior orchestra, Bert Stott's, was engaged for the occasion and proved their ability. The novelty decorating effect produced a scene not equalled in the Armory at any Dance of the year.

BARN DANCE—April 27, 1928

Amid the rustic atmosphere created by appropriate decorations, maidens in gingham dresses and their overall-clad escorts gathered at the barn on the University farm for the annual barn dance given by the College of Agriculture. Refreshments of candy, peanuts and pop corn added an effective touch.

"TACKY PARTY"

LEAP YEAR DANCE—April 28, 1928

Once every four years the conventional forms are reversed and for one evening the girls are permitted to take the offensive. The girls invite their guest, purchase the ticket, escort him to the dance and do the tagging. To make this last mentioned item possible, numbers of the fair sex go as "stags" and no man is admitted unless accompanied by a girl. Mortar Board sponsored the affair.

First Game-West Virginia Wesleyan

West Virginia University, in their initial game of the 1927 season, triumphed over West Virginia Wesleyan by the score of 27-7. This was the eighth consecutive victory for the Mountaineers in eight consecutive years, since the resumption of football activities between the two schools in 1920, before a holiday crowd of nearly 10,000 people and a hot sun that made the footing on Mountaineer Field the best for an opening game since the stadium was completed.

The victory was decisive, the Mountaineers scoring two touchdowns in the second quarter and one each in the two final periods. Wesleyan earned a touchdown scored by Rodriguez, in the final quarter by a brilliant and well earned march of thirty-two yards, which showed the latent power in the machine groomed by the Ross brothers.

Coach Roger's team functioned well in all departments, with the exception of forward passing, although the lone one completed by Hardy was good for fifteen yards and the third touchdown made by West Virginia.

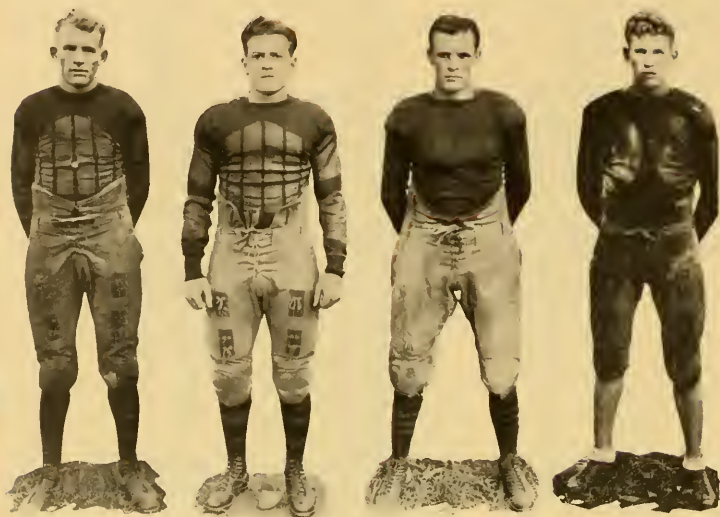

A. Glenn scored for the Mountaineers first in the second period, by a beautiful dash, after a double pass from Ryan, and a 32-yard run goalwards. Hardy netted the second score after line plunging had brought the ball within the scoring zone. Garrett made the third marker, and Larue scored the final touchdown after a forty yard march in the final period.

The Mountaineers made eleven first downs to six for Wesleyan, and held the upper hand throughout the game. McClung's forward passing attack featured the play of the Wesleyan team, although Bachet and Rodriguez bore the brunt of the line plunging.

For West Virginia, Hardy's steady work at line plunging through the first three periods featured the Mountaineers attack, with occasional dashes by Ryan and Glenn. Marshall Glenn backed up the line in great style in his varsity debut, and intercepted a forward pass from Wesleyan at one time when the Methodists threatened the Mountaineers goal.

The initial victory for 1927 was highly pleasing to Mountaineer fans who have been inclined to show a gloomy outlook for the heavy schedule facing the team for the season.

Second Game-Washington and Lee

West Virginia, in their second game of the 1927 season, tied Washington and Lee University, the score being 6-6. This was the second time, in the past ten years that W. & L. has tied the Mountaineers, but never during that time have they been able to win a victory. There was a large crowd to witness the contest, in spite of the terrific heat.

The West Virginia team was placed in scoring distance for their touchdown by a pretty pass which was caught by Keefer. He carried the ball to the one yard line and Hardy carried it over from there.

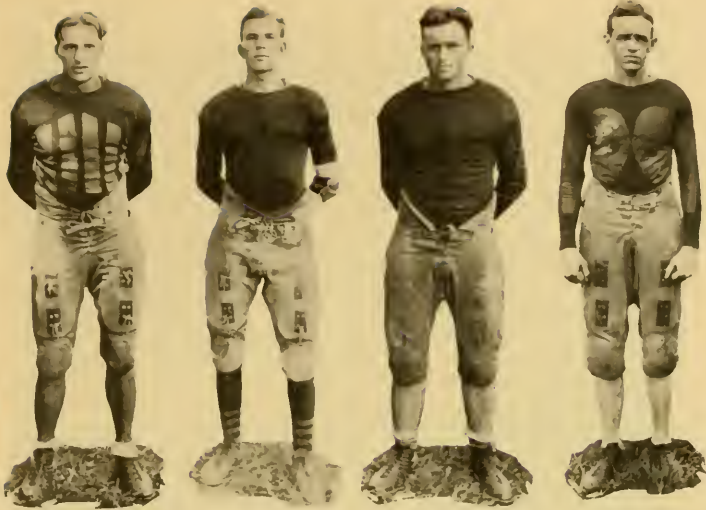

Washington & Lee tied the score late in the game after they had recovered the ball but a few lines of their goal due to the fact that one of A. Glenn's punts went out of bound at that point. But with four downs in order to make a touchdown and only a few feet to carry the ball, it took the Generals all of their four downs before they managed to score.

Marshall Glenn was not able to participate in this game due to the fact that his ankle had been sprained in scrimmage the week before. His true value to the team was shown quite clearly throughout the game. If he had been able to have backed up the line the outcome of this particular game might have been a different story.

Washington & Lee was represented by a strong and aggressive team. Their backs ran hard and were extremely hard to drag to the ground. The work of their line was featured by their tackles. Both of these men were tall and brawny and made an interesting afternoon for the Mountaineer backs.

The playing of West Virginia was not up to par. While part of their lack of drive and usual aggressiveness may be blamed on the intense heat that beat down on the team during the entire game, their play in general was not up to the high standard that has been set by our teams in the past.

Third Game-Pittsburgh

In their twenty-third annual clash, the Pitt Panthers romped to an easy victory over the West Virginia Mountaineers at the Pitt Stadium—by the score of 40-0.

It was a case of too much Welch, Booth, and the Pitt line, for the Mountaineers never really threatened. Welch, the Pitt captain, swept around the ends at will, and then switched to throwing deadly forward passes to Hagan and Demoise which left the West Virginia defensive men standing in their tracks until the pass was on its way.

Pitt was held scoreless in the initial period, but carried the fight to the Mountaineers, Edwards twice trying for goals from the field during that session, but not after the second quarter opened, Pitt took the ball on the West Virginia 43 yard line and advanced without a stop, Booth making the first touchdown.

One minute later the most sensational play of the game took place, when Welch received A. Glenn's kickoff on the goal line, raced down to the Pitt 30 yard line, where Ryan had his way blocked, cut in to avoid this man, and finally cleared the field and ran unaided the remaining way. A pass from Welch to Hoban brought another Panther touchdown before the end of the half.

At the beginning of the third quarter, West Virginia received the ball and advanced to the Pitt 44 yard line, when an intercepted pass by Cutler cut short the first Mountaineer rally. The Panthers again in possession of the ball did not relinquish it until they had again scored. The fourth period saw a complete collapse of the West Virginia team, for a second string Panther team scored two touchdowns in rapid order, and the 40-0 score represents the same score made by Pitt in 1913, and equals the largest margin ever attained by a Panther team over the Mountaineers.

Fourth Game-Lafayette College

The West Virginia and Lafayette College teams battled to a 7-7 deadlock, in the fourth game of the season, in a struggle that marked the return to form on the part of the Mountaineers sufficient to hold at bay one of the most powerful teams ever to play on Mountaineer Field. It also broke the string of successes for the Lafayette Maroons, which had stretched through parts of three seasons.

Hanlon scored the touchdown for Lafayette when, within three minutes after the game started he scooped up a Mountaineer fumble on the West Virginia 47 yard line and raced unimpeded over the goal line. Keefer scored for the Mountaineers after catching a pass from A. Glenn, and running 25 yards for the touchdown. Both attempts for the extra points were good. Lafayette threatened often, but a stone-wall defense stopped them deep in West Virginia territory on three separate occasions, and they were unable to score with three attempted place kicks.

Guest, Hanlon, Shellenberger starred for the Maroons and Keefer, A. Glenn and Larue proved to be the stars for the Mountaineers, although the line share of the glory goes to the light Mountaineer line, which was outweighed but not outfought, and proved to be the stumbling block for the Lafayette team.

This proved to be one of the greatest games ever played on Mountaineer Field, in which a reorganized West Virginia team stopped the winning streak of the Lafayette Maroons, who had triumphed sixteen successive times since early in the season of 1925 without a single set back or tie score.

Fifth Game-Georgetown

In their second annual clash, the strong Georgetown University team romped to an easy victory over the West Virginia Mountaineers at Griffiths Field by the score of 35-0.

West Virginia, not having fully recovered from the effects of their terrific struggle with Lafayette, found the Hilltoppers at their best. The latter team had been beaten by Syracuse, on the preceeding Saturday, in a game in which they were outscored but not outplayed. Consequently Georgetown was out for blood in their game with the Mountaineers. They played as a team inspired and everything that they tried seemed to work successfully. Their running attack, lead by the brilliant Nork was well nigh irresistible.

At the beginning of the third period, West Virginia received the ball and advanced deep into Georgetown territory, but a fumble put an end to the only real Mountaineer rally. The Hilltoppers again in possession of the ball did not relinquish it until they had again scored.

The playing of West Virginia was not up to par, and while part of their lack of drive and usual aggressiveness may be blamed to the fact that they had played through three hard games on successive Saturdays preceeding this game, their play as a whole was not up to the general standard that has been set by Rodgers coached teams in the past.

Nork, of Georgetown, stood out as the shining light of the entire contest. He was at his best in this game and gave an exhibition of general all-around ability that has seldom been equaled in gridiron history. The work of Brewster, stalwart Mountaineer tackle, stood out conspicuously.

MONTICOLA.

Sixth Game-Carnegie Tech

Carnegie Tech repeated their victory of last year over the Mountaineers, but not by a similar score, winning this time here on Mountaineer Field, by the score of thirteen to six, which indicated the advantage which the Tartans actually had over the Mountaineers.

The first downs were fifteen to sixteen in favor of Carnegie Tech, but many of them were made by long runs and gains from passes, which covered more ground for them in all of the advances.

Letzelter and English scored the touchdowns for the Tartans, the former counting in the first period, and English getting a second mark on a completed pass in the third period. The latter attempt at goal was successful.

Keefer tallied for the Mountaineers in the second period, after they had made a sustained march of 52 yards, and were halted on an incomplete pass over the goal line, but the West Virginia team was strong in this period, and took the resultant Tech punt at mid-field and from there advanced the ball in six plays to the goal line. A. Glenn's attempt at goal was blocked.

Carnegie Tech showed the effects of two defeats at the hands of Pitt and W. & J., but rallied sufficiently through the excellent work of Morehead, Harpster, and Letzelter to down the Mountaineers who played a game far above that displayed at Georgetown on the previous week. Keefer, Larue, A. Glenn and Garrett starred for West Virginia.

Tech held the advantage clearly in the first and last quarters, were held even in the third, and were easily outplayed by the Mountaineers in second and third periods.

Seventh Game-Missouri

The seventh game of the season was played with the University of Missouri at the stadium of the latter team, and the Tigers emerged victorious by the score of 13-0.

This game, although resulting in a defeat, was one of the best of the year. The Mountaineer team played good hard football throughout the entire game and had good fortune been with them, they probably would have emerged victorious. It was simply a case of two good teams playing on even terms throughout most of the game and the breaks deciding the issue in the favor of Missouri.

The half ended with the score 0-0 and the Mountaineers having the ball in Missouri territory most of the time. Time after time they carried the ball down as far as the Tiger 20 yard line, but they seemed to lack the punch to advance it past this point.

During the early part of the second half the West Virginia team again found its stride and took the ball far into Missouri territory, when Mehrle, crack Tiger back, intercepted a forward pass and returned the ball practically to the West Virginia goal line. Here the Missouri team scored. But a short time afterwards, this same Mehrle caught the Mountaineers off guard and returned a kick to the goal line for the second and last touchdown of the game.

For West Virginia, the line plunging of Keefer and the off-tackle runs of Larue were sensational. While for Missouri, the great work of Mehrle, their illusive back, stood out.

Eighth Game- Davis and Elkins

The West Virginia Mountaineers thwarted a serious invasion from Davis and Elkins College before a small crowd, and won a close game by the score of 15-12.

The Mountaineers scored two touchdowns in the second period, and a goal placement in the third quarter to gain their points, while the Senators scored one touchdown each in the second and fourth sessions. All of the attempts for points after touchdowns were failures.

A. Glenn scored for the Mountaineers early in the second quarter, after West Virginia had received the ball on an exchange of punts on the D & E. 40 yard line. From this point with a long pass, Larue to M. Glenn, helping materially, the brilliant Albert Glenn cracked through on the final play for the touchdown. Soon afterward, the Mountaineers marched 55 yards, only to lose the ball on downs. D. & E. then proceeded to get a spectacular run by Warren, for 30 yards, and a touchdown tying the score. Mike Hardy, who substituted for Keefer, took part in five plays immediately thereafter, three runs and two passes, the final one to Garrett. These five plays netted West Virginia 65 yards and a touchdown, and put them back in the lead.

In the third period, the fans were thrilled by some breaks, one of them being a 57 yard run by Wagner. West Virginia profited on a fumble recovered by Latham, and the Mountaineers marched 52 yards, to the 20 yard mark, from which point A. Glenn kicked a placement goal.

The Senators returned the fight and took the ball from their 45 yard line for a touchdown, by the aid of several passes and line plays.

Albert and Marshall Glenn, Larue and Garrett starred for West Virginia, while Rengle, Warren, and Bowles were best for D. & E.

Ninth Game-Washington and Jefferson

The West Virginia Mountaineers rose to brilliant heights in the final game of the 1927 season, to hold a powerful Washington and Jefferson Presidents to a 6-6 tie, each team holding distinct advantages, the Mountaineers with a surprising defense in their scoring zone, and the Presidents with a powerful offense on a miserably muddy field. The Mountaineer line played as men possessed, with brilliant ends, recovering fumbles, blocking kicks, and throwing all of the Presidents good play for naught.

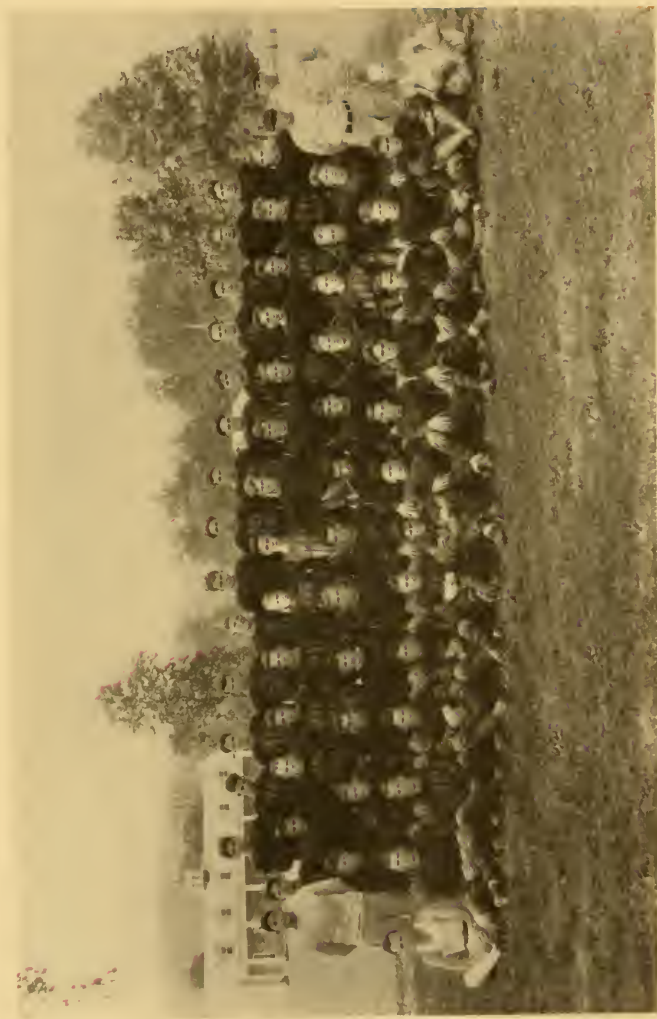

West Virginia took advantage of Washington and Jefferson's misplays although greatly outrushed and outweighed. Two recovered fumbles in the first period enabled the Mountaineers to stop an early W. & J. rush, and brilliant defense in the scoring zone halted the Presidents on four other occasions. The recovery of a fumbled punt in the final period gave the Mountaineers another opportunity, and this time they scored making it a tie. A final blocked punt almost cost W. & J. a great game, with the Mountaineers in possession of the ball on the two yard line as the game ended.

Although the game ended in a tie, the result was exceedingly pleasing to the West Virginia fans. The Mountaineers were the underdogs throughout the game and only by playing better than they knew how were they able to stave off defeat. The game with W. & J. is always one of the most interesting ones on the West Virginia schedule and there is to be more pleasure on the part of Mountaineer fans derived from a creditable showing against our time honored President than from most any other game of the year.

Amos and Heisel were the stars for the visiting team, while A. Glenn's punting saved the day for the Mountaineers.

Summary of Freshman Football Season

The freshman team of this year, although possibly they do not look so impressive from the standpoint of games won or lost, was composed of many promising players and much valuable Varsity material is expected to be derived from within their midst. In Potts, Stump, Varney, Gordon, Morris, Plaster, Joseph and Bartrug, Coach Martin had men of exceptional promise.

In their first game of the season, the Vice-Presidents of Washington and Jefferson triumphed over the Little Mountaineers by the score of 7-6. It was a hard fought game with the teams evenly matched, and some exciting football resulted.

Review of the Season

With three veterans, Black, Hagberg, and Capt. Taylor on hand from the 1926-27 team, the prospects for a successful season in basketball were exceptionally bright this year. The squad did not begin practicing as early as usual this year due to the fact that the "Ark" had been torn down to make room for the new Field House and some delay ensued during the negotiations for the use of the new High School gym.

The first game was played at home with the strong Salem College team furnishing the opposition. Although Salem had defeated Davis and Elkins a few nights before their game with the Mountaineers they did not live up to expectations and the Varsity won the contest by a score of thirty-two to twenty.

Carnegie Tech was our next opponent and West Virginia emerged victorious in a listless game the score being thirty-eight to twenty-nine.

The first game played away from home was with our old rival West Virginia Wesleyan. The Bob Cats had every thing to win and nothing to lose and played with such vigor that the Varsity was extended to win. The final score was thirty-six to twenty-seven.

Allegheny a school that usually supports a strong basketball team was not up to par this year and the Varsity had little trouble winning from them by a score of thirty-two to twenty-one.

The following week-end the Mountaineers invaded Western Pennsylvania. Their first game was with the University of Pittsburgh. The undefeated Panther quintet rode rough shod over West Virginia and in consequence the first game of the season was lost by the score of fifty-one to twenty-six.

The following night Grove City College was played and defeated in a close game that ended with the score of thirty-five to twenty-one.

The University of Detroit, a newcomer on the West Virginia schedule, was responsible for our second defeat of the season. This school had an experienced well balanced team and outscored the Varsity forty-one to thirty-four.

The next game was played at home and the Wesleyan Bob Cats were again defeated. The whistle ending the contest found West Virginia on the long end of a forty-three to thirty-four count.

This year's annual Southern trip found the West Virginia team at its best and as the consequence Washington and Lee was defeated in a close game that was played in Huntington by a score of forty-four to forty-two. The following night V. P. I. was swamped in a game that was played at Bluefield by a score of forty-seven to twenty-four. The trip ended in Charleston where a professional team known as the Charleston Senators and composed of many ex-Mountaineer stars was defeated in a game that ended fifty-five to forty-one.

With the season half over and only two games having been lost West Virginia's troubles began. Marshall Glenn, the stellar sophomore forward sprained his ankle in the game at Charleston and was therefore unable to play in the first of the three games games with Davis and Elkins. However, the five men that did play against the wonder team from Elkins played as though inspired and it was not until the last few minutes that the Senators were able to win by a score of forty-three to forty-six.

The next game was played away from home and the Mountaineers were defeated by Washington and Jefferson by a score of twenty-eight to twenty-nine.

The next three games were return games with Grove City, Carnegie Tech and Allegheny. With Marshall Glenn back in the line up very little trouble was experienced in subduing these teams by the following scores: 30 to 24, 33 to 30, and 37 to 29.

REVIEW OF THE SEASON

The second game with D. & E. which was played on the latter's floor found the Mountaineers without the services of Jim Black, the veteran guard. Although the team worked hard D. & E. had little trouble defeating them by the score of 39 to 28.

The University of Pittsburgh team came to Morgantown for their return game with the Mountaineers with a string of eighteen consecutive victories to their credit. The varsity was primed for the occasion and battled so stubbornly that what has been termed "The greatest college team in the country" could only defeat them by three points. The final score was 42 to 45.

The third and last game with D. & E. was played in Clarksburg. Here again the Scarlet Hurricane emerged victorious. The score was 31 to 41.

In the final game of the season the Mountaineer team was in a revengeful mood and as a consequence Washington and Jefferson, our oldest rival, was defeated by the score of 58 to 37.

Captain Truehart Taylor played a consistently good game throughout the year and led the team in scoring. Marshall Glenn, the other forward, is one of the best floor men that West Virginia has had and should make a good record in his remaining two years of Varsity competition. Hagberg, Black, Radcliffe and Fox held up their share of the burden admirably, and as a consequence one of the most successful seasons in recent years resulted. Thirteen games were won and seven lost.

Summary of Wrestling Season

Although, from the standpoint of matches won and lost, the wrestling season may not seem so impressive, when one considers that the pick of the Collegiate wrestling teams were met by our school this year, the outcome of the season is quite satisfactory.

The first match of the season was held away from home and resulted in a victory for Indiana by the score of 14 to 9. The Mountaineers started off well, winning time decisions in the 115, 125 and 135 pound classes, but as the bout progressed, the going became more difficult, and the Hoosiers merged victorious. It was a costly defeat for West Virginia, for Nixon, the heavyweight entry was injured. Brill, Cox and Girdon showed to decided advantage in this particular contest.

The second bout of the year was with the University of Michigan, a school that had won the Western Conference Wrestling Championship the preceeding year. The Mountaineers showed the effects of the hard struggle with Indiana and the outcome of the meet with Michigan resulted in an 18½ to 4½ victory for the Big Ten entry. Nixon, due to his injury in the first night, was unable to participate in this contest.

Our first wrestling match at home was held with the University of Illinois furnishing the opposition. Although the match ended with that school on the long end of a 25 to 0 score, the closeness of the contest is not told if the score alone be considered. Several of the bouts went into extra periods and the exhibition and showing made by the Mountaineers was nothing to be anything but proud of. Illinois has as well balanced and as aggressive a team as has visited our University for many a year.

In the fourth contest of the season, we entertained the Oklahoma A. and M. team. This is the school that has held the National Wrestling Championship for the past few years and is a school that features this particular sport. With three members of their team that are candidates for the coming Olympic team, they were not to be beaten, and the match ended with the score 27 to 0 in favor of the westerners. It is quite a treat to watch this Oklahoma team in action, and although the match was rather one-sided, the crowd that witnessed the contest enjoyed the exhibition thoroughly.

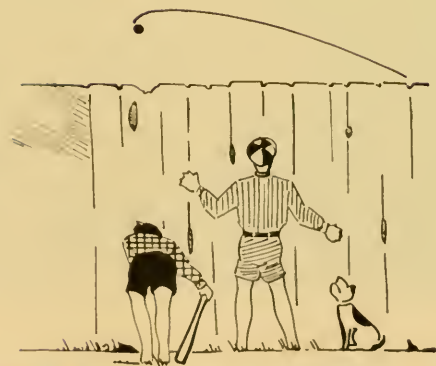

Our first win of the season was registered against the team representing Western Maryland. Wrestling is a new sport in this school, and the Mountaineers had little trouble in winning falls in all of the matches.

The outcome of the last match is something that will not be soon forgotten in the minds of the followers of West Virginia teams. This bout was at the United States Naval Academy and the strong Navy team furnished the opposition. The Mountaineers entered as the underdog and it was only through sheer determination not to be denied that they merged victorious with the score 21 to 8 in their favor. Much of the credit for this victory should go to Cooper, the little 115 pounder, he started the boys in the right track by winning his match, which was the first of the evening. After seeing that the wonders from the Navy were not unbeatable, the other West Virginia men entered into the contest with new determination, and as a result a wonderful victory was achieved.

There are bright prospects for wrestling during the coming year. None of the members of this year's team are to be graduated, and with Captain-elect Cox, ex-Captain Suder, Brill, Cooper, Girdon, Harrick, and the Nixons hack for the coming season, things seem to be very promising for the coming year.

Summary of Season

Baseball!—America's own—ranks second only to football in the athletic life of the Mountaineers. In considering the season from the standpoint of games won or lost or from the season's total number of runs, the result in 1927 was not as satisfactory as it might have been. But when you consider the fact that most of the tri-state rivals of the University did not support teams, making it necessary to schedule games with professional clubs, the season was very satisfactory.

Having lost two excellent infielders, Rowand and Farley and two outfielders, Captain Pfleger and Nugent, the prospects for a successful season were not too bright. But Coach Rodgers worked hard with material at hand and a team capable of holding its own in college circles was placed on the field.

The brunt of the pitching fell on the broad shoulders of John Harsanyi. Brenemam, always a capable pitcher, was bothered throughout most of the season with a sore arm. Sam Lopinsky who had done excellent relief work in previous years, worked to advantage more or less regularly. Mike Harrick also enjoyed fair success, considering the fact that this was the first year for him on the varsity.

The brilliant Captain elect Phillips played in his customary highly successful manner at short stop. Ed Morrison, regular first baseman for the past two years, held down that difficult position in fine style. Vacheresse, from the freshman team and Hodges of the inter-fraternity league, played second and third base respectively. The fielding of both of these men was rather erratic, but they always redeemed themselves for misplays in the field when they came to bat. Vacheresse had a better batting average with the bat than any one on the team.

Captain Lewis, Hand and Bill Harrick made up the outfield. They composed a capable and speedy trio.

The catching was ably handled by Patrick and Humphrey. Both of these men possess strong arms and were fair hitters.

The first two games of the season were played with the Fairmont Teachers College. The varsity worked well and both were won by scores of 5 to 3 and 5 to 1 respectively.

Summary of Season

The next contest, which was with the strong Marshall College team, found Harsanyi in fine form for the first game. West Virginia won the contest by the score of 3 to 2. But the visitors won the second game of the series by the score of 6 to 0.

In place of the annual eastern trip, the Varsity took a jaunt through the middle west this year. Beginning with Goodyear Industrial University, games were played with the University of Michigan, Michigan State College and Notre Dame. Two games being played with the last school mentioned. All of these games were lost, two by one run and two by a two run margin.

The next week found the Varsity in Fairmont, playing that city's representative in the mid-atlantic league. The game resulted in a 6 to 6 tie.

The following Friday and Saturday, Juniata College was our opposition at home. We played and won two interesting games with them by the score of 4 to 3 and 12 to 8.

The next four games were played with the Clarksburg club in the Mid-atlantic league, Marietta College and the Quantico Marines. All of these games were interesting, especially the ones with the Marines, but they were all lost by close scores.

The last game with Wasedollino College, of Japan. These colorful Japanese students, who play baseball as it should be played, won both of their games with us.

The game with the alumni, which is a cross between baseball and a side show, was won by the varsity by the score of 6 to 4. Coach Rogers, as usual, was the big gun for the alumni.

It is to be regretted that so many of our natural rivals have given up baseball and every one that is interested in the sport hopes that many of them will see fit to resume it in the near future, making a much more interesting schedule for the Mountaineers possible.

Review of Track Season

West Virginia's past season in Intercollegiate Track and Field circles was one of its most successful. A policy of gradual development has guided the effort of Coach Smith, who is in charge of this important sport. Beginning with but little experienced material Coach Smith developed a team that more than held its own with any of its tri-state competitors.

Work started indoors in February, the squad moving to the track for practice in March, as soon as the weather permitted. By April, training had progressed sufficiently so that elimination trials could be held. Another month was then devoted to intensive training. Our schedule was such that it was evident that only hard work could overcome the strenuous opposition we were to face.

The opening meet presented the strong Geneva team at the Stadium. With the renowned sprinter, Butler and the giant Hubbard among their numbers, Coach McMullan's team looked particularly dangerous. Although Butler ran true to form, winning three firsts in the sprints, the West Virginia team performed in a capable manner and won the meet by the score of 80 to 55.

A dual meet with W. and J. was the next attraction. This was the first time for some years that our rivals from Washington have supported a track team and the Varsity had little trouble winning by the one-sided score of 120 to 15. W. and J. only managed to score one first place, that being the two mile event. If Coach Smith hadn't seen fit to keep Stender out of that event, our opponent would not have been so fortunate as to have tallied a first place.

For the first time since 1922, the University of Pittsburgh track team defeated West Virginia in their annual meet. Although not unexpected, this triumph must have been very gratifying to Coach Frank Shea and his Panther followers. Two West Virginia boys were the shining lights for the Panthers. Welch took four first places, the javelin, shot, discus and broad jump, and five points were made by Gwinn in the hammer throw. Captain Okey Morrison was the shining light for the Varsity. Although handicapped by a sore leg he captured both hurdle races, equaling the state record in the high hurdles. Buvinger and Stender were the other West Virginia men that captured first places.

The first of the meetings between the "Big Four" of the tri-state district was held this year. Pitt, Carnegie Tech, W. and J. and West Virginia are the schools represented in this mythical conference. West Virginia acted as host and as a result one of the finest and most interesting track meets that we have ever participated in was successfully completed. With the Pitt team top heavy favorite, West Virginia put up a spectacular fight, keeping the final result uncertain until the last. As a result of their splendid effort, six new University records were established. Captain Okey Morrison set a new record in both the high and low hurdles, Montgomery in the quarter mile, Kirchner in the discus, Taylor in the broad jump and Keeler in the hammer throw.

In conclusion it might be said that Coach Art Smith has shown remarkable versatility in developing track men. With the green and inexperienced material to work with, he has developed the sport at West Virginia to the point where the Varsity is always a dangerous and worthy foe for any school. Incidentally all of the West Virginia records have been established during the four years that he has been coach.

Honoraries

Tau Beta Pi

HONORARY ENGINEERING SOCIETY

Tau Beta Pi was founded at Lehigh University in 1855. It is the oldest and most representative of the Honorary Engineering Societies and is the only one at West Virginia University. Its purpose is to mark in a fitting manner those who have conferred honor upon their Alma Mater by distinguished scholarship and exemplary character as undergraduates, or by their attainments as alumni. Distinguished scholarship is not considered the sole criterion although it is the primary requisite for admission.

Alpha chapter of West Virginia was formed from the local Theta Psi and was installed in 1922.

American Institute of Electrical Engineers

Established, 1884

West Virginia Branch Established, 1915

The West Virginia Branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers is one of the sixty-eight student branches in the United States. It was organized in 1915 under the direction of Professor V. Karapetoff of Cornell University and Professor W. E. Dickenson of West Virginia University.

The objects of the institution are the advancement of the theories and practice of Electrical Engineering and of allied arts and sciences, the maintenance of a high professional standing among its members and the development of the individual engineer.

MUDDYCOLA
OFFICIAL SNEER BOOK
WU

Foreword

We knew you would come back here
Just as soon as you had looked at the so-called "beanties"

We were handicapped by a scarcity of material fit to print, but even so, we hope you'll like this section.

Whether you like it or not—you're going to get it despite repeated efforts to prevent it.

We are enabled to, and take great pleasure in dedicating this Muddy-Cola section of The 1929 Monticola to that self-applauding mass of nincompoops masquerading as the student body of W. V. U.

Enough of this—
Put your boots on and wade through the mire—it will be the first trip for many of you, we know—
AND HOW!

Controlling star of the University—Metropolitannus—the only light on a rainy night.

THE SEASONS

Football Season: Bright, dark, black, bright, black, dark, grey, Bright.

Basket Ball Season: Odd and Even.

Base Ball Season: Left on base.

Petting Season: Predicted activity lives up to predictions.

UNIVERSITY HOLIDAYS

Labor Day: President Trotter takes a deserved vacation.

Hallowe'en: Mappy Kappa Sigs are injured while bobbing for apples.

Armistice Day: Chi Omegas stop fighting among themselves long enough to agree that they are the best bunch of girls on the campus: Applesauce! Hooley! Etc.

Thanksgiving Day: Alumni from all over the state come in bringing quantities of liquor, which they drink themselves. They tell a bunch of old jokes, sleep in your bed, steal your pipe and slippers, and going home write back demanding an apology for the rotten way you have treated them.

Xmas Day: Prexy takes another vacation! Think of your health, Frank!

New Year's Day: Rip Simpson tips waitress in Dumb George's.

Washington's Birthday: Yee Quong Wah hangs dirty shirt at half-mast.

Independence Day: Phi Psi's discontinue Tuxedo drill.

St. Valentine's Day: The fish are hooked—and how?

St. Patrick's Day: Pi Lambda Phi celebrates (for what?)

Palm Sunday: George brings out one of his thirty cent specails.

Good Friday: Instructor Gable changes his shirt.

Special Holiday: President Trotter returns from Chicago.

All Fools Day: The faculty celebrate.

Commencement Exercises: "Onward Christian Soldiers."

ECLIPSES

Pi Beta Phi's eclipse Kappas and Chi Omegas in rushing.

Phi Kaps eclipse all former initiation records.

Marshall College eclipses the University—And How.

Fairmont State does a ditto. Ain't it perpendicular?

BIRTHSTONES

Gallstone: The uninvited guests at fraternity and sorority dances.

Soapstone: Dean Stone, slickest guy on the campus.

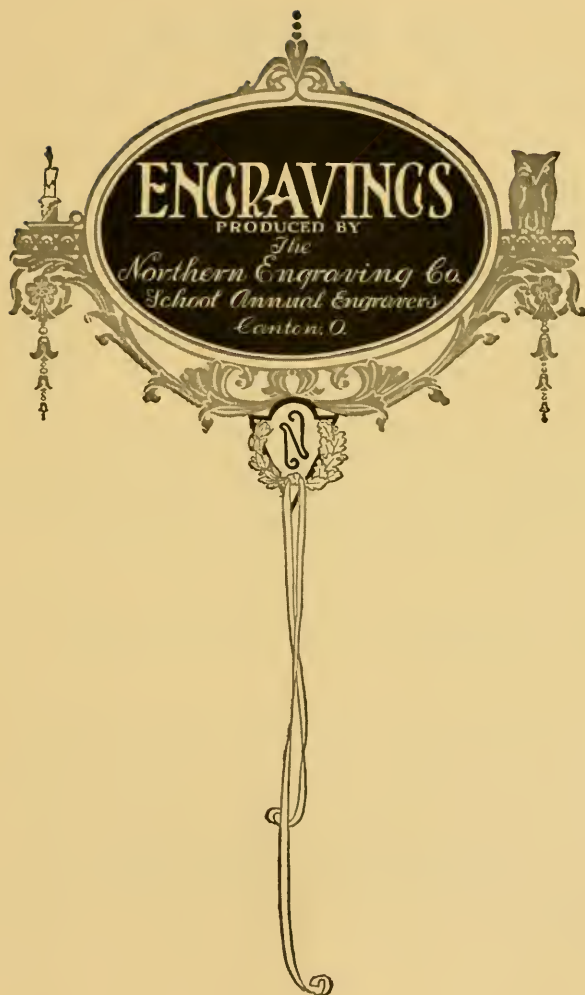

Tombstone: Dean Callahan.

Blarneystone: Mary Alice (G-D, I'm wild).

FACTS ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY

Definition of W. V. U. A place maintained at state expense for mossy backed (and Brained deans) to fight over just what constitutes a separate college and why. Also a place for students to wear out clothes.

Saturday Literary Page

(With sincerest apologies to the Athenaeum and the Scribblers Club)

YOUSAPS FOIBLES:—

THE GREAT FISHES AND THE LITTLE FISHES: The grind-eds were drawing in the net which they had cast over the campus and it was full of all kinds of fish. The little fish escaped thru the meshes of the net and got back into circulation, but the big fish were all caught and hauled in to be slaughtered. Moral: Insignificance often brings safety.

THE PI PHI AND THE CHEESE: A large black Pi Phi, seeing a Kappa walking across the campus with a piece of cheese, addressed her thus:

"Hello, you big Kappa, You! Where are you going with that pice of cheese?"

"That ain't no piece of cheese! It's a Sigma Nu!" angrily replied the big Kappa.

THE BOY AND THE CHI OMEGA: An ed was stung by a Chi Omega. He ran back to his frat house and told one of the older brothers. "Altho it pains me very much, I did touch it lightly." That is just it," replied the other brother. "The next time you touch a Chi Omega, grasp it boldly, and it will be as soft as silk in your hand and will not hurt you in the least."

THE ALPHA XI LADY AND THE SAP: One day a lady Alpha Xi was taking a sap home when they crossed a bridge and the lady Alpha Xi saw her reflection in the water below. Knowing that so lovely a reflection could come from no one except herself, she held tightly to her sap with one hand and powdered her lovely nose with the other.

THE DELTA GAMMA GRASSHOPPER AND THE PHI MU ANT: Once upon a time there was a nice lady Delta Gamma Grass-hopper co-vorting over the greens of our lovely campus enjoying the beautiful moon-light to the fullest extent of her youthful desires. Suddenly she came upon a Phi Mu ant diligently wending her way to the library. Now the Delta Gamma grasshopper being an inquisitive soul did accost the little Phi Mu ant and did speak thus: "Why goest thou to the library, oh very insignificant ant, when all the world lies open tonight? Why not be like me and enjoy yourself?" The little Phi Mu ant quonoth not a word but continued on her journey. The silly Delta Gamma grasshopper kicked up her heels and with a catty laugh continued in her conquest of pleasure. — Winter came and with it the exams. The silly little Delta Gamma Grasshopper hustled out of school and the diligent little Phi Mu ant made the honor squad.

“NO LONGER A BABY”

West Virginia has, in the last few years, progressed in every line of industry, until now it is no longer a mere infant in the world of business.

Keeping pace with this progress the system of transportation throughout the state has also been greatly improved. Today the State is a network of bus lines so situated that one can conveniently travel to any heretofore “out-of-the-way” point.

This progress has been sponsored and made possible by THE WEST VIRGINIA BUS ASSOCIATION

Dick's Dribblings

Here is the letter one of the boys of the R. O. T. C. sent home to Dad who saw service in the Spanish American War:

Dear Dad:

As the Artillery says: "I've shot my wad."

SON.

And here is the reply he got:

Dear Son:

Mother just laid down a rolling barrage and I am down to cold steel myself. Whyin'ell don't you charge?

Campus Types

THE POLITICIAN

The politician is the man who always remembers you about the time of the spring elections. He walks up and suavely says to you: "Well old man, I haven't seen you for quite a while, where do you keep yourself? Mustn't stick too close to the books (ha, hi!)" Then he gets confidential, takes your hand in his, places the other on your shoulder and proceeds to mention very seriously and with great impressiveness—"By the way, old fellow, a number of my friends want me to run for office, and I'm counting on you to support me for all you are worth. I'm not seeking this for myself, but since my friends are anxious that I have it, I'm making the run to please them." Others of this type are Red Mead, Ken Cowden and Sleepy Glenn.

THE ATHLETE

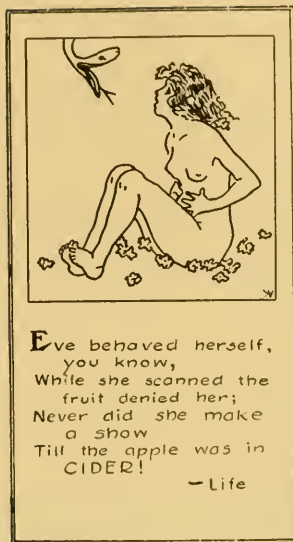

He is the man who is brought into the living room of the fraternity house during rush week to show off his big W. V. and crushingly greet the rushees. At other times he is kept in the attic studying "Culture and Self-Improvement," "Clothes and How to Wear Them"—during his first two years. By this time he has been sufficiently trained so that he does not break down the furniture when he sits down, bend the knives and forks or wear his hat at the table. He does not know anything about complexes, Intellectual Emancipation, The Russell theory of matrimony or the Decameron, and he does not give a damn. Because of his ability to throw things around, including the first person singular of the personal pronoun, he is always sure to get by. This last brings forth from us the presentation of another of this class—Rudolph Hagberk—who is so aptly nicknamed "Swede."

THE ACTOR

Among the actors about the place, in addition to the appendage at the left, we have Mr. W. C. Ayers, the W. C. standing for Who Cares. Mr. Ayers' every gesture is worthy of Barrymore. The actor is the man who can turn a simple remark about the weather into a dramatic incident of touching nature and far reaching consequences. He is invariably seen on the campus deep in thought, his lips moving slightly, while he chuckles amusedly to himself about the nasty way Steve Vaught acted in "In Love with Love." Upon a chance encounter, he greets you thus: "What Ho, Horatio? Aha, the guard! Whither away, fair young squire with comely wench at your side, on this spring morning when all the world is yet sleeping? Methinks there lurks an air of mischief in those glistening eyes! What-wouldst be on thy way to the Library? Farry a bit and even I will join you."

Freshmen Intelligence Test

Any freshman (including the freshman foot-ball squad) should be able to answer the following questions at the end of the second semester. By the end of their sophomore year they should be able to write a thesis on said subjects. At the end of the junior year, if he still be among us (and this is highly improbable, i. e. Ajax Hare, Dean Harry E. and Malestrom Fulton, etc.) it won't make any particular difference—so what the ———!

Section A. Association. (Mark out inapplicable word).

1. Sigma Phi Epsilon is an eating, social club.
2. Steve Vaught is in school, out of school.
3. Dean Stone is a pain in the neck, a darn good fellow. (5 min. only).
4. Coach Rodgers is large enough to be a coach, an instructor of math.

Section B. General Knowledge. (Answer briefly).

1. How many feet in a Kappa Sig foot?
2. Did the Chi Omegas get any good freshman girls?
3. Who for Gawd's sake?
4. What does Jimmie Wade see in Leora Dunn? What does she see in him?
5. What does anyone see in either of them?
6. Were eds ever popular with co-eds? Does this include Steve Harrick?

Section C. Mathematics. (Six and a half minutes for this).

1. How many Sigma Chis in the present chapter? (only a pound of paper and one slide rule allowed for computation).
2. Add all the Sigma Nus together and get one good man.
3. How many Deltas does it take to throw a couple of drunks out without calling the cops?
4. How much liquer can a fraternity drink without wanting to go out and kill a bunch of Phi Deltas?

Section D. Science. (General).

1. When was the Delta Gam ice age? What caused the reversal of temperature?
2. How much alcohol must be added to thirty gallons of grape ale to give it a taste? (Send a'l suggestions to Interfraternity council, care of John Phillips and Ken Cowden.)
3. Did Doc Kessel ever cure anybody? If so who for heaven's sake?
4. Will there be any stars in Dean Callahan's crown? How should he be crowned? (All suggestions will be turned over to A. B. students.)
5. What wave length does Paul Holland use in talking to get so much volume?

Section D. Applied Science.

1. What school talks about itself the most and amounts to the least? (Ten percent off for any other answer except Law).
2. Who threw the bottle at Mother Abbott?
3. Which party was responsible for stuffing the ballot box this year?
4. How many times did you vote?
5. Who should one see first in trying to get something done by the Council of Deans, the President or any faculty committee? (We have been here quite a few years and we have not found a solution for the problem as yet so your guess will be given full credit whatever it is just so it does not include any members of the above mentioned).

"See that blonde over there," Dick remarked to a fellow student as a cleverly dressed, taffey headed frail passed the corner.

"Yes, I see her, but what of it?" replied his companion.

"Well, it was like this," began Dick. "We were standing in front of the Spot when that dame drifted by. After looking at her I concluded that she needed me so I took up the trail."

"After following some distance and finally screwing up enough courage to break the news, I ever so gently tapped her on the shoulder and said, 'Beg your pardon but haven't we met some place before.'"

"Yes," she replied, "but it wasn't my fault;" and kept right on in high gear.

"Still hopin' for success I made another attempt to get better acquainted with Ruby, as I called her hat for lack of a better adjective.

"I know that I have met you," I began, "but the time and the place have slipped my memory."

"That's not half of what has slipped your memory," Sheba snapped.

"And what's more—if you don't stop trying to get fresh with me I'll call an officer—you dirty (naughty word)."

"With that I offered her a cigarette, and inquired if she lived close or would we have to take a bus."

Minutes of Fraternity Meetings

SIGMA CHI

Meeting failed to open for a long time, but finally Brother Murrin arrived from the Chi Omega house whistling "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi." Brother Scott moves that Brother Murrin's pin be lifted for the insinuous implication that the above mentioned song was his own personal property and that Mary was the ONE. Brother Littlepage amends to read that the song be the personal property of the Chi Omega Chapter to use and be used at will so long as he was included. Brothers Wilt and Swearingen break up the meeting by staging a private hotsy tots exhibition of the Baltimore as it is danced in Morgantown.

PHI SIGMA KAPPA

Meeting barely opened. Brother Heck appoints brother Parriott as the worthy successor for Bro. Hobensack as the guiding star for dear old Phi Sig in the political firmament. Special instructions were given him not to run Jim Wade for cheer-leader since organized cheering seems to not be in his line this semester. Brother Moore is extended a vote of thanks and confidence for getting Bro. Zoehlicker the membership of football. Brother Wooddell, the silent Cal of the campus, asks that the brothers refrain from voting more than four times in the coming elections since it would be a great moral strain for him to close both eyes to corruption—four votes being the capacity of one eye.

KAPPA ALPHA

Brother Keefer has great difficulty in calling meeting to order since Brothers Meisel, Behnke, Strothers, and Ferguson are staging an eating contest in the dining room. Brother Red Mead took the floor to advise the brothers on how to get along next year without him, but broke into sobs when he thought of what the loss would be, especially when it comes to personal advertisement in the Athenaeum.

DELTA TAU DELTA

Brother Holland breaks two gavels calling the meeting to order amid the turmoil and confusion caused by Brothers Garrett and Cole arguing which one of them threw the two belligerent drunks out. Brother Bottome moves that Brother Conaway buy a new suit in preparation for his campaign for Presidency. Brother Conaway moves that Brother Bottome quit going with Brother Morrison's girl. Brother Flannigan appointed to investigate from behind the screen in the Pi Phi dining room and report the exact state of affairs. Brothers Sample and Simpson again congratulate themselves on being the two most highly inebriated "toughs" at the Hill Hard Times Party. Meeting finally broken up by the police department at the call of Brother Hill for assistance.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Meeting open with the national anthem "Bottle, bottle, who threw the bottle." After much deliberation it was decided that Brother Hill be transferred to the Delta Gam house to save him the trouble of making excuses for missing meetings on Tuesday nights. Brother Johnston appointed to see that appropriate reception be given Brother Turner when he comes to West Virginia. Brother Kirtley's suggestion for a beer party at said reception overruled. Brothers all congratulate themselves for being the "foundation" of the famous hill.

KAPPA SIGMA

Meeting opened by brothers all filing in and taking their places in alphabetical order thus saving a half hour in roll call. Brother Fletcher moves that all brothers put on their foot-ball uniforms as a rushee will be up for dinner tomorrow night. Brother McHenry asks if shoulder pads are required. Brother Stender makes plea to a general introduction of members to each other. When asked if he wanted to put it in the form of a motion he replied that he would like to but he did not know anyone well enough to expect a second. Meeting adjourned at 8:30 so the brothers could keep training for spring football.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

Meeting dropped open. Brother Rheinhart came in late as usual to create a stir. Brother Humphries moved that his picture be sent to the journal for advertising purposes. Motion died for lack of a second. Brother Virgin asked all the brothers to refrain by calling him by his last name when he is around girls because he feels that some of the girls might become embarrassed. Meeting adjourned for baseball practice.

ALPHA GAMMA RHO

Meeting opened with a short bed time story by Brother Raines about a little country girl who came up to him and asked him if the A. G. R.'s really owned the Farmers Castle. It was moved and seconded that a letter be written to the new dean of the ag school to find out if he "belonged" or not—steps to be taken to prevent his taking office if he was not.

PHI KAPPA PSI

Meeting opened after a quorum had drifted in from the Kappa House. Brother Phillips makes motion to the effect that Brother Jackson refrain from "playing" father to the chapter and really do some work. Passed with only one dissenting vote (Bro. Jackson's). Brother Scott Lowe asked the brothers to observe quiet hours more closely as he was trying to work up atmosphere for the next Dramatic Club play. Brother Taylor hoarsely whispered that Brother Lowe always had plenty of atmosphere—that is, if "fog" was atmosphere. Meeting dismissed during Brother Phillips' weekly lecture on "The Art of Dressing Well."

THETA CHI

A meeting was held simply because the constitution requires that one be held once a week. Brother Roberts was reprimanded for making so much noise with his slide rule. It was moved and seconded that the chapter build a padded cell in which to entertain drunken alumni to-wit: Bros. Kramer, Johnston and Hostetler, when they return for "short visits." Motion passed without much trouble after Brother Marsh told the chapter that the repair bill for furniture broken by above mentioned brothers was \$35.63 $\frac{1}{4}$ for the week of May 19th. Brother Crouse made a speech on "Why I Belong to the Union." (Meeting still in session as Brother Crouse is still talking).

PHI KAPPA SIGMA

After waiting three hours and fifteen minutes for Brother Willhyde to trim his upper lip the meeting was opened. Brothers Johnston and Vaught asked to instruct all the new members on the technique of "pulling the wool" over Dean Stone's eyes. Brother Bias, for the thousandth time asks the brothers to "Hurry up and buy the Monticola" since his picture is on nearly every page. Brother Wood moves that the chapter not expel him for going to Europe with a K. A. Matter taken under consideration. Meeting calmly (for a change) adjourned.

SIGMA NU

Meeting opened after seven of the brothers had been given a cold shower to sober them up. Brother Snyder reads a letter from the Military department asking the chapter to return the uniforms they borrowed for initiation. Brother Ault says that he can not return the things he borrowed because he still takes military. Brother Cowden makes a short speech about the past election and had the brothers all weeping bitter tears for not "fighting for Sigma Nu." Brother Monroe asks the chapter if Charley Coleman is really a Sigma Nu or a Kappa. Brother Snyder tells him that he "was" but that former Brother Coleman was now the errand boy at the Kappa House. As is the custom the meeting was adjourned.

BETA THETA PI

Meeting opened after the torch-light parade down Foundry Street. Brother Dollman came in and a rat bit him thinking that he was a piece of cheese. Brother Bycott then gave a talk on the national standing of Beta, but fell in a faint when he started in on the local standing. Brother Brown asked to be told just who this "guy" Wiggund is that he has heard so much about in initiations. Brother Latham instructed to inform him. The chapter congratulates Brother Ralston on his drag with Dr. P. I. Reed and the chapter boos loudly. Meeting annulled.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

Brother Summers called the meeting to order—six members answered the roll call so the outer guard was dispatched to the horse-shoe grounds across the street to inform the dear Knights of the Bleeding Heart that the time had come again for them to listen to another one of Brother Gene Arnold's campaign talks. Brother Freshman congratulates the fraternity on having a candidate for governor and reprimands the city police department for arresting him—$102.60. Meeting broken up by Brothers M. Glenn and ----- making a dash for the Pi Phi house.

PHI DELTA THETA

Meeting called to order by Brother Wiseman. Brothers Snder and Cox stage a 43 minute exhibition wrestling bout for the benefit of all the brothers who had been unable to witness their mat abilities during the past winter. Considerable discussion ensued on the matter of finding some one to fill Brother Bill Thompson's shoes. Brother Harrington snickered meanly and added that no one in the chapter had big enough feet. Meeting adjourned without much trouble.

Reflections

IN GENERAL: It seems to us that the trouble with this school is (1) the students, (2) the students, and (3) the students. If this student body had any spunk at all they would rise up in arms and demand that the taxpayers of this State give them a university that is a university. May God hasten the day when a leader will come who will give us the strength to do this.

ABOUT FOOTBALL: Las fall we hear a lot of fair weather fans criticize Coach Rodgers, Mr. Stansbury, the team and the school, and for what reason—an off year. Can any one show us a football record from any school in these United States that has not experienced the same thing that we have? We cannot expect o win year afer year without hitting the rough spots once in a while. Mountaineers get behind your teams and help them fight!

ABOUT MORGANTOWN: It is a damn pity that the University was ever located in this hick town. The townspeople, especially the merchants seem to think that they are doing the students a big favor in letting them use their old town. We would like to know just haw many of those people would be able to live the way they do without the University. Millions of dollars are spent here every year by the students and by the state and who benefits—the residents of Morgantown and yet they charge New York prices for Punkin Center rooms. Paris prices for dresses and gowns, and lord only knows how such terrible suits can be even given away to anybody—yet the merchants will tell you that business is terrible, that they can't cash your check, that the students impose upon him and all that sort of hooeý.

ABOUT THE ATHENAEUM: As a student newspaper this is about the worst ever. We can't understand why this university with all the funds that have been appropriated for courses in journalism cannot put out a paper of a great deal higher calibre. For the past three years the journalism department of our "rival college"—Marshall has won the state prize for having the best college publication—and you should see their journalism department—about ten students, an old house for an office, and a much smaller student body—yet in one year they interviewed the president of the United States, put on a drive for student organization and government and got it and started the movement to bring national fraternities to the school. Why can't we have a paper that will really amount to something—that will help us fight for the things we need? Why should there be the close 'CENSORSHIP' that exists at present—it is our paper and it should represent us—not just those things that a board of censors wish it to represent.

ABOUT THE MONTICOLA: This school has been publishing a year-book for years and years and yet the number of copies printed each year has been far below the number printed for schools of equal size. We have seen lots of year-books and we have talked to lots of authorities on year-books and they say that the Monticola has always been far ahead of the average college year-book—and yet the students do not support it. It is for you and its sole aim is to portray the life and thought of the University during the calendar year. It costs lots of money to do this but when it is once done it is there in black and white for years and years to come. If the fee for the Monticola were to be included in the tuition fee the Publication Board could give the students of West Virginia University the best year-book in the country at about half the cost of the book under the present system. Some day this is going to be brought to the attention of the Board of Control—in the meantime think it over and see what advantages there are in big scale production.
